

Another successful weekend for the BMW S 1000 RR racers: a title, wins and podiums.

Raffaele De Rosa is crowned champion and Maximilian Scheib celebrates the race win at the season finale of the FIM Superstock 1000 Cup – Michael Rutter is victorious at the finale of the British Superbike Championship, with Christian Iddon and Ian Hutchinson claiming podium finishes.

Munich (DE), 19th October 2016. Jerez de la Frontera in Spain and Brands Hatch in Great Britain: these were last weekend's destinations for the BMW teams and the experts from BMW Motorrad Motorsport. Their outings have once more been successful with the next title win for the BMW S 1000 RR, as well as two race victories and further podium finishes. Raffaele De Rosa (IT) was crowned champion in the FIM Superstock 1000 Cup (STK1000). Maximilian Scheib (CL) competed in the STK1000 race in Jerez with a wildcard – and celebrated a sensational win. Brands Hatch was the venue for the grand finale of the 2016 British Superbike Championship (BSB). In the Superbike class (BSB SBK), Christian Iddon (GB) claimed a second place on the podium. In the race for the Superstock class (BSB STK), Michael Rutter (GB) celebrated a great victory, while Ian Hutchinson (GB) joined him on the podium in third. With their results, the RR riders collected more points for the 2016 BMW Motorrad Race Trophy (see full rankings below).

MOTUL FIM Superbike World Championship in Jerez, Spain.

The penultimate round of the 2016 MOTUL FIM Superbike World Championship (WorldSBK) was held in Jerez de la Frontera (ES) at the weekend. Jordi Torres (ES / Althea BMW Racing Team) scored the best results of the BMW S 1000 RR riders. He ended both races in eighth position. His team-mate Markus Reiterberger (DE) was ninth and 14th. Joshua Brookes (AU / Milwaukee BMW) also claimed a top ten result, finishing race one in tenth place. In the second encounter, Brookes was 12th.

FIM Superstock 1000 Cup in Jerez, Spain.

The famous Jerez circuit also staged the 2016 season finale of the FIM Superstock 1000 Cup (STK1000) – with stunning success for the BMW Motorrad Motorsport family. The newly crowned champion races a BMW S 1000 RR. Raffaele De Rosa (IT) and the Althea BMW Racing Team secured the title after an exciting season. De Rosa had arrived at Jerez in second overall, but, by finishing the last race in fifth place, he passed his rival Leandro Mercado (AR) in the standings and won the championship crown with an advantage of three points.

There was also reason to celebrate in Jerez for another BMW team: the Graphbikes Easyrace SBK Team and rider Maximilian Scheib (CL). The Chilean, who was runner-up in the 2016 FIM CEV Superbike European Championship (CEV), competed with a wildcard in the STK1000 race. He impressed everyone with a stunning performance. In qualifying, Scheib set a new lap record on his BMW S 1000 RR. In the race, he stormed to a fantastic win, his first in the series.

The British Superbike Championship (BSB) held its 2016 season grand finale in Brands Hatch (GB) at the weekend. In the Superbike class (BSB SBK), three races were contested to wrap up the season. The finale saw another podium finish for one of the BMW Superbike riders: Christian Iddon (GB) claimed a strong second place in race one on his Tyco BMW S 1000 RR.

In the final race of the Superstock class (BSB STK), the RR was once more victorious. After a brilliant performance in difficult conditions, Michael Rutter (GB / Bathams SMT) celebrated a great win. He also set the fastest race lap. Ian Hutchinson (GB / Tyco BMW) joined him on the podium in third. Fourth place went to Adam Jenkinson (GB / NEI Motorsport), while champion Taylor Mackenzie (GB / Buildbase BMW Motorrad) crossed the line in sixth.

Mackenzie had secured the champion's title in September at the penultimate round in Donington (GB). Hutchinson ended the season second overall. In the 12 races held this year, victory went to the BMW S 1000 RR on ten occasions.
