ABB FIA FORMULA E CHAMPIONSHIP 2017/18.

SANTIAGO (CHI).

THE DRIVERS.

"I'm really excited to head to Santiago as I feel a lot more prepared and ready after having scored some points at my debut race in Marrakech. It will be my very first visit in South America and I'm looking forward to it. The track is going to be challenging, but the good thing is that it's going to be new for everyone. That means I won't have a disadvantage. We all need to learn the track and I worked hard in the simulator."

"It will be my first time in Chile and it's always cool to have a new track in Formula E. I like the challenge as a driver. We have spent some days in the simulator together with all the engineers and mechanics. We are learning so much as a team day by day. I am really encouraged by that. My goal for Santiago is to compensate for the mistake I made in Marrakech and score some good points for the team."

"Santiago will be a big change for the team on many fronts. It's a new venue and track that no one has seen before. The track is unique, running through the park and alongside and over the river. Unlike Marrakech, the temperature appears to be much hotter and this always creates its own challenges, so it is likely that thermal management of the car and battery will be the biggest challenge for every team."
