- Four podiums for BMW racers at the Pannonia-Ring.
- Carmelo Morales claims his first podium of the season in Spain.

The 2019 BMW Motorrad Race Trophy is in full swing. This season, a total of 26 championship classes in 21 racing series all around the world count towards the Race Trophy ranking. Week after week BMW riders and teams do battle for victories, titles and Race Trophy points in these championships. 'BMW Motorrad Motorsport News' allows us to regularly summarise all the action for you in a compact and informative manner. This way, you are always up to speed.

British Superbike Championship: Another Superstock win for Taylor Mackenzie.

Knockhill (GBR) hosted round five of this season's British Superbike Championship (BSB) at the weekend. In the first Superbike race (BSB SBK), BMW S 1000 RR rider Christian Iddon (GBR / Tyco BMW Motorrad) finished fourth, missing out on the podium by just 0.369 seconds. Peter Hickman (GBR / Smiths Racing) came home eleventh; his team-mate James Ellison (GBR) was twelfth. In race two, Hickman was the best of the BMW riders in seventh place. Ellison was tenth; Iddon crashed out.

In the Superstock class (BSB STK), BMW rider Taylor Mackenzie (GBR / Bathams Racing) claimed his second victory of the season. He won the second of the two Superstock races on his RR, having previously finished runner-up to earn a spot on the podium in race one. He was joined on the podium in race two by Andrew Reid (GBR / Tyco BMW), who finished third. Reid had previously crossed the finish line sixth in race one. Alex Olsen (GBR / Team IMR) finished eighth and seventh.

Alpe Adria International Motorcycle Championship: Two podiums at the Pannonia-Ring.

The Alpe Adria International Motorcycle Championship (AA) was at the Pannonia-Ring in Hungary for the third round of the season. The Superbike races yielded two podium finishes for the BMW S 1000 RR. Karel Hanika (CZE / Fany Gastro BMW Motorrad) came home third in the opening race. He was followed over the finish line in fourth place by Nico Thöni (AUT / Racing4fun). Ondřej Ježek (CZE / Fany Gastro BMW Motorrad) was fifth. Bartłomiej Moranski (POL / Moranski Racing) also claimed a top-ten finish in eighth place. In race two, it was Thöni who landed his RR on the podium in third place. Ježek finished fifth, ahead of Ireneusz Sikora (POL / BMW Sikora Motorsport) in sixth. Hanika failed to finish this race.

FIM European Superstock 1000 Cup: A brace of podiums for Michal Prášek.

The Pannonia-Ring (HUN) also played host to round three of the new FIM European Superstock 1000 Cup (EU STK), and there was a double podium for BMW racer Michal Prášek (CZE / Rohac-Fejta Moto Racing). He finished third in both races on his BMW S 1000 RR. He was followed over the finish line in race one by Michal Šembera (CZE / TME Racing) in fourth place and Arnaud Friedrich (GER / Team LRP Poland) in fifth. In race two, Friedrich came home in fourth place with Šembera in sixth.

Spanish Superbike Championship: First podium of the season for Carmelo Morales.

The Spanish Superbike Championship (ESBK) held its third event of the 2019 season at Valencia (ESP) at the weekend. BMW racer Carmelo Morales (ESP / BMW easyRace Team) claimed his first podium of the year, finishing runner-up on his BMW S 1000 RR.

Italian Superbike Championship: Third round of the season at Imola.

The Italian Superbike Championship (CIV) returned to action at the weekend after a break of roughly two months. The third event of the year was held at Imola (ITA). In the first of the two races, Matteo Baiocco (ITA / DMR Racing) was the best-placed BMW rider in fourth. Team-mate Luca Vitali (ITA) followed him home in fifth place. Vitali then finished fourth in race two, ahead of Baiocco in fifth. Christiano Gamarino (ITA / Tutapista Corse) was seventh in race two.

Italian National Trophy 1000: BMW racers in action at Imola.

The Italian National Trophy 1000 (IT 1000) was also at Imola (ITA) for its third race of the season. The best-placed BMW rider was Fabio Massei (ITA) in seventh. He was followed over the finish line by Francesco Cocco (ITA) and Federico Napoli (ITA / SB Corse) in eighth and ninth.

Asia Road Racing Championship: Podium for the RR at Suzuka.

Suzuka in Japan hosted round four of the 2019 Asia Road Race Championship (ARRC). Azlan Shah Kamaruzaman (MAS) claimed another podium on his BMW S 1000 RR, run by the Onexox TKKR SAG team. He came home third in the first of the two races, before finishing seventh in race two.
