- Successes for the BMW road racers at the Southern 100.
- BMW riders also in action in the USA and Brazil.

The 2019 BMW Motorrad Race Trophy is in full swing. This season, a total of 26 championship classes in 21 racing series all around the world count towards the Race Trophy ranking. Week after week BMW riders and teams do battle for victories, titles and Race Trophy points in these championships. 'BMW Motorrad Motorsport News' allows us to regularly summarise all the action for you in a compact and informative manner. This way, you are always up to speed.

International Road Racing Championship: BMW S 1000 RR dominates in Těrllicko.

Once again at the third round of the International Road Racing Championship season, in Těrllicko in the Czech Republic, there was no getting past the BMW racers. They claimed the top four positions and first three positions for the BMW S 1000 RR in the two races. In race one, Erno Kostamo (FIN / 38 Motorsport) finished in the top podium spot. Davey Todd (GBR / WEPOL Racing) followed in second place, ahead of his team-mate Marek Červený (CZE) in third place. Didier Grams (GER / G & G Motorsport by BMW Motorrad) rounded off the top-four lockout in race one. The second race was red flagged after three laps after a rider fell, and, due to a combination of factors including bad weather, was not restarted since there were delays in the schedule. This time it was Todd who won, Kostamo finished second and Grams third. Todd leads the championship standings.

Southern 100: Successes for BMW S 1000 RR riders.

BMW road racers were in action on the Isle of Man again last week, this time in the Southern 100. Three races were held for bikes with a 1,000 cc capacity, which were classified as part of the BMW Road Race Challenge for the BMW Motorrad Race Trophy. The RR finished on the podium in all three races. In the Eilan Vannin Fuels Senior Race, Michael Dunlop (GBR / Tyco BMW) finished in second place on the podium. Rob Hodson (GBR / JGH Racing / VRS Recovery) was fourth while Ryan Kneen (GBR / Charmer Builders Ltd.) also crossed the finish line in the top five. In the Island Aggregates Senior Race, it was Sam West (GBR / PRL) who finished in second place. Michael Evans (GBR) and Hodson finished in fourth and fifth places. Dunlop fell and injured himself, and was unable to continue competing in the event. In the final of the three 1000 cc races, the Hunts Motorcycles Solo Championship Race, Kneen finished in second place. Hodson rounded off the podium in third. West followed in fourth place.

The G H Corlett Solo Founders Race, a race for motorcycles with various engine capacities, was also held as part of the Southern 100. In this race, it was BMW rider Dennis Booth (GBR) who got the victory, Jean-Pierre Polet (BEL / JPM Team) finished second.

SuperBike Brasil: Fourth round of the season in Goiânia.

The 2019 season of SuperBike Brasil (BR SBK) headed to Goiânia (BRA) for its fourth race of the season. The best-placed BMW racer was Alex Barros (BRA / Alex Barros Racing) in fifth place. The seasoned rider showed the fans a courageous fightback on his BMW S 1000 RR when he worked his way up from the back of the field during the race.

MotoAmerica: BMW racers in action at Laguna Seca.

The MotoAmerica AMA Road Racing Series (MA) hosted its fifth race weekend of the season at Laguna Seca as part of the FIM Superbike World Championship (WorldSBK). In the first race in the Superbike class (MA SBK), Jeremy Coffey (USA / Superbike Underground) in ninth was the best BMW rider. In race two, Jake Gagne (USA / Scheibe Racing) finished in seventh place after retiring from the first race. Coffey finished in 13th place in the second race.

Travis Wyman (USA / Weir Everywhere Racing) competed in both the second Superbike race and the race in the Superstock class (MA STK). He finished twelfth in the Superbike race and crossed the finish line in fourth place in the Superstock category.
