Private teams and riders also contributed significantly, securing twelve additional titles in the most prestigious international and national championships worldwide. In international road racing, the BMW M 1000 RR once again proved to be the bike to beat.

From Europe to North and South America, Asia, and Australia, BMW customer racing teams competed with the BMW M 1000 RR and BMW S 1000 RR in numerous championships, including WorldSBK and the FIM Endurance World Championship (FIM EWC).
