2026 SEASON GUIDE.
PASSION FOR RACING.

FOREWORD.

SVEN BLUSCH, HEAD OF BMW MOTORRAD MOTORSPORT.

Dear motorcycle motorsport enthusiasts,

The time has finally come again. We are looking forward to a new season full of thrilling action, many successes, and great passion for motorcycle racing! Our large global racing family is ready!

In WorldSBK, we are working hard to successfully build on the momentum from the two world championship titles in 2024 and 2025. With Danilo Petrucci and Miguel Oliveira, the ROKiT BMW Motorrad WorldSBK Team will field two experienced top riders in 2026 who bring everything we could wish for: skill, experience, speed, great personalities, and tremendous enthusiasm for the project.

In FIM EWC, the dramatic season finale of last year motivates us even more to finally claim the long-deserved world championship title in 2026! Our BMW Motorrad World Endurance Team has been among the absolute best in the field for years, and we are entering the new season very well prepared. Michael van der Mark now strengthens the regular rider line-up alongside Markus Reiterberger and Steven Odendaal on the #37 BMW M 1000 RR.

In customer racing, the many private BMW teams have been delivering titles, victories, and podium finishes for years. We are now further strengthening this globally successful racing family with BMW Motorrad Motorsport Official Teams in the focus markets USA, UK, and Japan: OrangeCat Racing in MotoAmerica, 8TEN Racing in road racing and the BSB, as well as AutoRace Ube Racing in Japan and FIM EWC.

In this BMW Motorrad Motorsport Guide, we introduce you to the large BMW Motorrad Motorsport family. Learn more about our factory and customer racing activities as well as the technical details of our BMW M 1000 RR.

I wish you an exciting 2026 motorcycle racing season!

ROKIT BMW MOTORRAD WORLDSBK TEAM.

Since BMW Motorrad Motorsport's factory return to the FIM Superbike World Championship in the 2019 season, Shaun Muir's team has been the official factory team. BMW Motorrad Motorsport and the ROKiT BMW Motorrad WorldSBK Team celebrated their greatest shared successes to date in 2024 and 2025 by winning the Riders' World Championship twice.

In the 2026 season, a new strong rider pairing will compete in WorldSBK on the team's BMW M 1000 RRs. Italian rider Danilo Petrucci and Portuguese rider Miguel Oliveira bring not only a wealth of skill and experience, but also great passion.

"It is truly exciting to open a new chapter with our WorldSBK project. Expectations are high after winning the world championship in each of the last two years, and we are firmly determined to provide our two new riders, Danilo and Miguel, with everything they need to reach the podium as quickly as possible."

"Our BMW M 1000 RR is a winning bike with which we have claimed the world championship twice in a row. Our task now is to put together the right package together with our new riders, Danilo and Miguel. Everyone is working intensely toward this goal – in the team, in the test team, and at our Munich headquarters. Development is constantly progressing, with the aim of regularly finishing on the podium with both riders. We pay attention to every detail, because continuous optimization is the key to success."

FIM ENDURANCE WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP.

BMW MOTORRAD WORLD ENDURANCE TEAM ONLINE:

FIM ENDURANCE WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP.

They are the heroes of endurance racing: the BMW teams in the FIM Endurance World Championship! Our factory team, the BMW Motorrad World Endurance Team led by Werner Daemen, came very close to the ultimate goal in 2025 – at the season finale, only 25 minutes stood between them and the world championship title. But that's what endurance racing is all about: the emotions, from jubilation to setbacks.

Nowhere are they as intense as in endurance racing. In 2026, the team embarks on the mission to win the title once again. New to the team is our long-time WorldSBK factory rider Michael van der Mark, who forms an outstanding rider trio alongside Markus Reiterberger and Steven Odendaal. Hannes Soomer serves as the fourth rider. In addition, strong private BMW teams regularly achieve successes in the various FIM EWC classes.

"We have a clear goal: to fight for the championship. Everything fits together very well. We have a very good bike and very strong riders with Markus, Steven, and now Michael van der Mark, with Hannes as the fourth rider. Technically, we are perfectly prepared. I expect that we will be competing at the front – and, of course, a bit of luck is also needed. If luck is on our side, we can fight for the world championship title once again."

2013	4 th place in the FIM Supersport World Championship, Winner FIM EWC 8H Suzuka
2012	Champion European Superstock 600 Championship

"I am really looking forward to this new task. Last year, I had a great race with the team at Suzuka, and working with Steven and Markus was a lot of fun. It's fantastic to already know everyone, and I think it's pretty clear that we share a common goal: winning the world championship. Last year they came very close, but unfortunately, that's part of endurance racing. I want to help secure the world championship title."

CUSTOMER RACING.

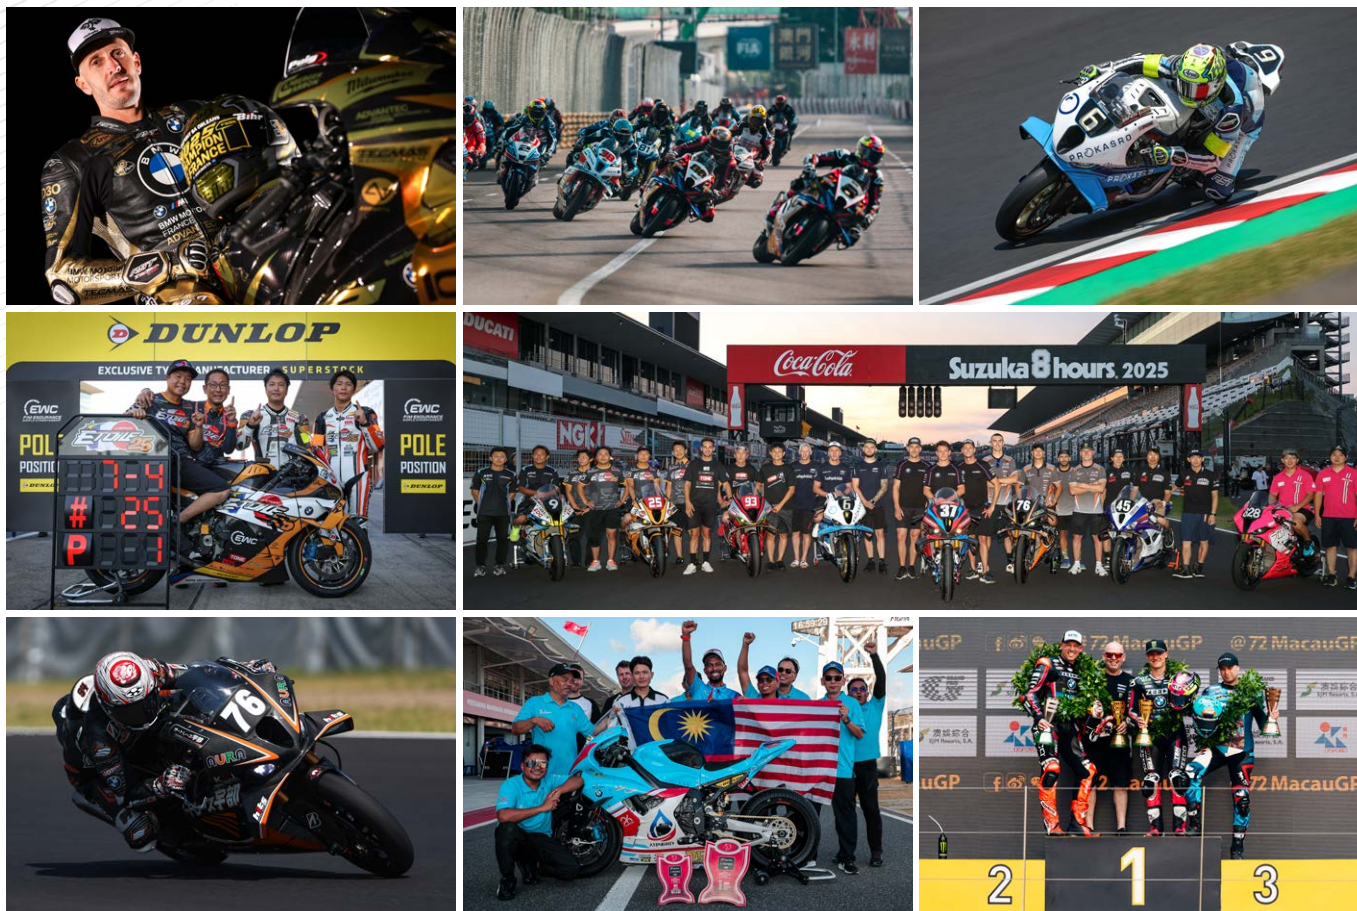

"Together with our customer racing teams, we form one large racing family, and the BMW teams benefit worldwide from the developments stemming from our factory racing programmes. These include components from the Superbike World Championship, such as a new swingarm and improvements in electronics. New this season are the BMW Motorrad Motorsport Official Teams which serve as reference teams and through which we are strategically expanding our commitment in key markets. Our goal is to strengthen our customers around the globe and to further build on our record of success."

Uwe Geyer

Head of BMW Motorrad Motorsport Customer Racing

BMW MOTORRAD MOTORSPORT. UNITED WE WIN.

THE LARGE GLOBAL RACING FAMILY OF BMW MOTORRAD MOTORSPORT.

The factory programmes in the WorldSBK and the FIM EWC represent the pinnacle of BMW Motorrad Motorsport's comprehensive global activities. Added to this are the heart and foundation of the programme: customer racing. The large international racing family celebrates success around the globe in the most important international and national championships, as well as at the major road racing events.

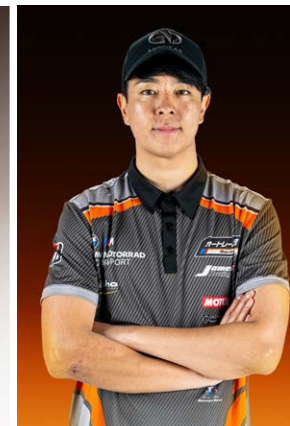

Last season, private BMW teams and riders claimed no fewer than 12 championship titles. Taking stock of the successes of all BMW racers, the figures speak for themselves: 169 victories and a further 242 podium finishes across 22 different Superbike and Superstock classes.

In championships such as the International German Championship (IDM), now called EURO MOTO, the French Superbike Championship, the Spanish Superbike Championship, and many other series, BMW Motorrad customer racing teams have been among the outright favourites for years. They also traditionally work closely with the respective local markets. To further strengthen the international racing family, BMW Motorrad Motorsport Official Teams have now been established to represent BMW colours in other regions and selected focus markets. We introduce them on the following pages.

BMW MOTORRAD MOTORSPORT ONLINE:

AUTORACE UBE RACING. BMW MOTORRAD MOTORSPORT OFFICIAL TEAM JAPAN.

The AutoRace Ube Racing Team shines in both sprint and endurance racing. In 2025, the team, together with its Japanese rider Naomichi Uramoto, secured the very first victories ever for BMW Motorrad Motorsport in the Superbike class of the Japanese Road Racing Championship, thereby making history for the Japanese squad. At the same time, the team made its debut in the FIM Endurance World Championship in 2025 and impressed at the 8 Hours of Suzuka, finishing a strong sixth place in its first outing in the series with the #76 BMW M 1000 RR.

In 2026, the AutoRace Ube Racing Team will contest the full FIM EWC season. The rider line-up is impressive. Uramoto is joined by two further strong members of the BMW family. French rider Sylvain Guintoli is a Superbike and endurance world champion, comes from the BMW Motorrad World Endurance Team, and was also part of the BMW Motorrad WorldSBK Test Team. Hannes Soomer, who also brings extensive experience as a fourth rider of the BMW Motorrad World Endurance Team, contributes that expertise to AutoRace Ube Racing as a regular rider.

ORANGECAT RACING. BMW MOTORRAD MOTORSPORT OFFICIAL TEAM USA.

For the US-based OrangeCat Racing team, 2025 was the most successful season in its history: the team won the title in the Superstock class of MotoAmerica and also placed both riders in the top three of the championship standings. For the 2026 season, the logical next step followed by stepping up to the Superbike class as a BMW Motorrad Motorsport Official Team USA. "Working with BMW Motorrad Motorsport and BMW Motorrad USA has always been amazing over the years, and we couldn't imagine better partners to take on our next challenge with," said Team Principal Jeff Connors.

The line-up features two US-American riders, Sean Dylan Kelly and Jayson Uribe. New signing Kelly was the 2021 MotoAmerica Supersport champion, competed for two years in the FIM Moto2 World Championship, and celebrated his first victory in the MotoAmerica Superbike class in 2024 – on a BMW M 1000 RR. Uribe has been part of OrangeCat Racing since 2024. Last season, he finished third in the MotoAmerica Superstock class, scoring no fewer than eight podium finishes.

8TEN RACING.

BMW MOTORRAD MOTORSPORT OFFICIAL TEAM UK.

When it comes to international road racing, there is no way past the two Britons, Davey Todd and Peter Hickman. At all of the world-famous classics, the North West 200, the Isle of Man Tourist Trophy and the Macau Grand Prix, the pair have been collecting victories and podium finishes for years on the BMW M 1000 RR, both in Superbike and Superstock specification. Last year, Hickman and Todd founded their own team: 8TEN Racing. They continued their success story in road racing, even though Hickman was sidelined for a period due to injury. Todd celebrated victories at all four major events, while Hickman secured podium finishes at the North West 200 and in Macau. In 2026, 8TEN Racing, with Team Manager Darren Jones, becomes a BMW Motorrad Motorsport Official Team UK. Todd and Hickman are aiming to continue their winning run in road racing. In addition, they will once again compete with 8TEN Racing in the British Superbike Championship. There, they experienced a challenging 2025 season as a newly and short-notice formed team, but this year the goal is to move back up the order as well.
