

BMW racers claim more successes in the CEV Superbike European Championship: Four podiums and two class wins for the BMW S 1000 RR.

Maximilian Scheib, Adrián Bonastre and Miguel Ángel Poyatos shine on their RRs at the CEV round in Jerez – BMW racer Daisaku Sakai finishes the MFJ season in Japan as best privateer rider.

Munich (DE), 4th November 2015. The penultimate round of the 2015 FIM CEV Superbike European Championship (CEV) brought more successes for the BMW S 1000 RR: at Jerez (ES), the BMW racers claimed several positions and dominated the privateer class. In doing so, they also improved their positions in the 2015 BMW Motorrad Race Trophy (see full rankings below). In the MFJ Superbike All Japan Road Racing Championship (MFJ) the season drew to a close in Suzuka (JP) this Sunday, with BMW racer Daisaku Sakai (JP) being the best privateer rider in the overall rankings.

FIM CEV Superbike European Championship in Jerez, Spain.

Four of six podium finishes up for grabs, two class wins and the lead in the privateer championship extended: this is the summary of what the BMW racers achieved at the penultimate round of the 2015 FIM CEV Superbike European Championship (CEV) in Jerez (ES). On the Andalusian track two races were held last weekend. On both occasions three BMW S 1000 RRs crossed the finish line in the top four, and in the privateer classification first and second places went to BMW riders.

Young Chilean Maximilian Scheib once more impressed with great performances on his boxmotos.com Easyrace SBK Team BMW S 1000 RR. On only his second race weekend with the team, Scheib qualified second on the grid, claimed one fastest race lap and finished second in both races. In addition, he celebrated a double win in the privateer classification (CEV AM). He was joined on the podium by two other BMW riders: Miguel Ángel Poyatos (ES), who was standing in for the injured Iván Silva (ES) on the Targobank Motorsport RR, and Adrián Bonastre (ES / also boxmotos.com Easyrace SBK Team). Poyatos finished the two races in third and fourth and was second in the privateer class on both occasions. For Bonastre, it was the other way round: he crossed the line in fourth and third respectively. In the overall rankings Bonastre improved to third with 125 points, only three points adrift of second place.

The overall leader in the privateer championship, Eeki Kupaarinen (FI), was fifth in this class in both races on his Motomarket Racing BMW S 1000 RR (seventh and eighth overall). With these results Kupaarinen extended his lead. He now heads into the season finale in Valencia (ES / 15th November), where one more race will be held, with an advantage of eight points over his closest rival.

In the 2015 BMW Motorrad Race Trophy rankings Kupaarinen improved from 12th to ninth. Bonastre climbed to 16th and, with one more race to go, he still has the chance to reach the top 15.

The 2015 season finale of the MFJ Superbike All Japan Road Race Championship (MFJ) was held last weekend in Suzuka (JP). BMW racer Daisaku Sakai (JP / CONFIA Flex Motorrad39) finished the season in 13th overall, and in doing so he was the best privateer rider in the field, which mainly consists of factory riders and teams.

At the MFJ finale in Suzuka, two races were contested in the Superbike class. Sakai crossed the line in 13th and 11th respectively on his number 39 BMW S 1000 RR. His CONFIA Flex Motorrad39 team mate Shinya Takeishi (JP) came home in 15th and 12th. Yuuta Kodama (JP) was 19th and 16th on his Team Tras135HP BMW S 1000 RR. All three of them also picked up further points for the 2015 BMW Motorrad Race Trophy.

2015 BMW Motorrad Race Trophy – Current Standings.

In 2015 the BMW Motorrad Race Trophy comprises a total of 19 international and national championships. Participants in the BMW Motorrad Race Trophy can compete in multiple championships. The points scored in the different championships are calculated separately for each individual race series. The current standings only include points from the race series in which the participant has scored the most Race Trophy points. You can find all the information on the 2015 BMW Motorrad Race Trophy online at the BMW Motorrad Motorsport website:
